

LIVERPOOL 2020

IMPLEMENTING RESPECTFUL CARE: THE SCIENCE AND THE PRACTICE

Dates: 10th-11th September 2020

Online conference

Host: Liverpool School of Tropical Medicine

Technical Support: SFL

Thursday 10th September

Poster theme: "Implementation Science"

MORNING SESSIONS

Moderators: Andrew Weeks and Terry Kana

08.45 – 08.50

Live music by Nazeem

08.50 – 09.00

Introduction and welcome by Andrew Weeks

09.00 - 09.50

Implementation science: the evidence base for how to get things done
Professor Sally Theobald – Liverpool School of Tropical Medicine

10.00 - 10.50

Respectful maternal and newborn care: time for action
Annie Portela – World Health Organization, Geneva

10.50 – 11.20

Break (options of posters, music, yoga, soapboxes)

11.20 – 11.50

6 POSTERS WITH DISCUSSION ON IMPLEMENTATION SCIENCE

Non-COVID effects of the pandemic
Dr Raji Tajudeen – Africa CDC
Dr Ambrose Otau Talisuna – WHO Africa

12.00 – 12.50

Using implementation science to enhance global health programmes – panel discussion chaired by Charles Ameh
Panel: Sally Theobald, Imelda Bates, Annie Portela, Jane Sandall

Decolonising global health
Hosted by Liverpool University SNOGS (Student Neonatal Obstetrics and Gynaecology Society) and Liverpool John Moores University Midwifery Society

12.50 – 13.50

Break (options of posters, music, yoga, soapboxes)

AFTERNOON SESSIONS

Moderators: Charles Ameh and Helen Nabwera

13.50 – 14.00

Introduction to the afternoon sessions by Charles Ameh and Helen Nabwera

14.00- 14.50

Oral presentations on implementation science x3

NIHR Global Maternal Health Groups:
Tina Lavender – Manchester and Dilly Anumba – Sheffield

15.00-15.50

Workshops: transforming our programmes with implementation research

	1. Creating new healthcare facilities (Imelda Bates, Kathy Burgoine, Helen Allott)	2. Achieving respectful healthcare (Annie Portela, Salome Maswime, Tina Lavender)	3. Achieving positive childbirth experiences (Sally Theobald, Indie Kaur, Andrew Weeks)
16.00-16.50	PechaKucha style

Friday 11 th September		Poster theme: “Respectful Care” and “Year of the Nurse and Midwife 2020”
MORNING SESSIONS Moderators: Tina Lavender and Kate Lightly
08.45 – 09.00	Live music by Nazeem
09.00 - 09.50	Building midwifery care into a global movement Indie Kaur – Fernandez Hospital, Hyderabad
10.00 - 10.50	Creating high quality, respectful maternal care Professor Salome Maswime - University of Cape Town, South Africa
11.00-11.20	Break (options of posters, music, yoga, soapboxes)
11.20 – 11.50	6 POSTERS WITH DISCUSSION ON RESPECTFUL CARE AND YEAR OF THE NURSE AND MIDWIFE
12.00 – 12.50	Providing low cost, effective neonatal care Dr Kathy Burgoine – Mbale Regional Referral Hospital, Uganda
12.50 - 13.50	Break (options of posters, music, yoga, soapboxes)
AFTERNOON SESSIONS Moderators: Helen Allott and Teesta Dey
13.50 – 14.00	Introduction to the afternoon sessions by Helen Allott and Teesta Dey
14.00-15.00	Respectful care in the age of COVID-19: implications for mothers, newborns, and health workers Introduction: Wendy Graham – London School of Hygiene & Tropical Medicine Key findings of LMIC survey of maternal and newborn health professionals facing the COVID-19 pandemic - Aline Semaan - ITM Belgium Summary of evidence on COVID-19 in pregnancy in the UK - Jim Thornton – University of Nottingham Panel discussion chaired by Wendy Graham Panellists: Asma Khalil, Peter Waiswa, Lenka Benova, Jim Thornton, and Beatrice Mwilike Makula
15:00 – 15:10	Break (options of posters, music, yoga, soapboxes)
15.10-16.00	Global Health research challenges	Oral presentations on Respectful care and Year of the Nurse and Midwife x3

	Panel discussion chaired by Helen Allott and Teesta Dey Panel: Quazi Monirul Islam, Jo Raven, Helen Nabwera
16.00 - 16.30	Running an online conference to reduce our carbon footprint Talk on technique (Matt Sales) and panel discussion chaired by Andrew Weeks. Panellists: Matt Sales, Milton Musaba, Chris Woodhouse
16.30 – 17.00	Reflections, prizes, next GLOW and wrap up	